To whom it may concern:

I would like to see the speed limit increased and consistent on mcormond road and central avenue. 60 as a minimum but up to 90 on the north commuter bridge. As someone who drives around the city all day, I find the purpose of the bridge to be useless as it doesn't save any time at 50km. We need more efficient infrastructure in our city and better roads. The residents of saskatoon want more TIME in their day - we are all working long hours to try and keep up, pay taxes etc. More time = a better economy. We need efficient speed limits. How about 30 in residential areas and speed it up every where else?

Also, the traffic light timing is awful and should be adjusted. If you leave one red light, you shouldn't be arriving at another.
