Hello Janice:

I couldn't resist forwarding this picture from today's Throwback Thursday in the StarPhoenix . It is a picture from the 1980 National Chef's Association Conference held in Saskatoon. Peter was on the planning committee. They used horse-drawn carriages to take the chefs from the Bessborough Hotel to the Western Development Museum for their supper. They ate locally made farmer sausage, sitting on straw bales, while trekking over to the museum.

Another perfect example of the enjoyment Peter gets from contributing to, and sharing, the offerings of this beautiful city with everyone!

Pretty darn neat!

Enjoy the day,

Joanne Speirs

THROWBACK THURSDAY

City of Saskatoon Archives StarPhoenix Collection S-SP-423044-7

HORSES ON THE BRIDGE Every Thursday, we feature an image from the StarPhoenix archives. Today, we see an image of a number of horse-drawn wagons and carriages driving along on the Traffic Bridge, from May 28, 1960.
