Comments

There has been a lot of discussion about short term rentals in the city. Some have described it as an alternative to hotels and some have said it will help the economically. Bottom line is money. If you have a short term rental, you can make up to three times what you would have with a regular rental. Also short term rentals will be allowed in more zones in the city than commercial rentals. So before you make any decision, ask yourself "do you want one next to you"
