Comments

I see the agenda was not revised, so something went wrong with my submission. So I know it is too late, but I send it in anyways, though I know not what you could possibly do now.

Thanks

Julia

Councillor D. Hill, Chair, committee members.

My name is Julia Adamson representing the Friends of the Saskatoon Afforestation Areas Inc.

We come before this meeting with an ask for Municipal heritage status for the afforestation areas because we looked at and examined these questions.

- Where are we now?

- Where do we want to be?

- What is the need, challenge or opportunity?

- What has triggered the need for change?

- What are we trying to achieve? –

- What is the strategic fit?

Citizens are proud of living in Saskatoon. It is a city one can depend on and feel safe in. The role of culture is that it's the form through which we as a society reflect on who we are, where we've been, where we hope to be, Wendell Pierce. Defining a new public image and identity for the Richard St. Barbe Baker Afforestation Area provides an opportunity to communicate a holistic understanding of the biodiversity, natural, historical and cultural assets which exist. "What would we do if a plane crashed today and 100 people died? What would we do if it happened again tomorrow? And the next day? We'd ground air traffic. We wouldn't live with that" said David Teater

Its about a fresh beginning, a new image and telling refreshing stories that can be given to users and visitors to enhance the user and visitor experience, enjoyment of visit, and increase individual pride and stewardship for the Saskatoon Afforestation Areas; George Genereux Urban Regional Park and Richard St. Barbe Baker Afforestation Area.

Thank you
