In regards to the recently posted budget,

Studies have shown that instead of raising police funding, raising funding for affordable housing and mental health resource funding will lower crime rates in comparison to raising police funding. Saskatoon has one of the highest crime rates and these rates will continue to be high until we take real action and stop crime by providing everyone with affordable housing and social services rather than over policing!

Saskatoon is better than this and I believe in our city council. I strongly hope you take my request seriously and help make change in this city.

Thank you for your time,

Meeka Fast
