I am a driver and pedestrian who doesn't feel safe cycling on Saskatoon streets, but who absolutely supports cycling and bicycle lanes. I live in the block immediately off Victoria Ave. I believe that the only plan that makes sense is to continue the lane structure that exists now between the bridge and 8th St. I predict that the < compromise > plans while less expensive will be a waste of money and totally counterproductive. Everyone will be confused. Cyclists will ignore the lane rather than make the necessary crossovers at 8th St and Taylor. Drivers will be furious because cyclists will continue to ride in driving lanes. Residents will be furious because they will lose on street parking. Lose-lose-lose. I implore you to spend the money and do this properly.
