Subject: Potential Limitations on Private Gathering Size

Message: I'm writing as a concerned and frustrated citizen of Saskatoon. I certainly understand what the city is trying to do, but I don't think these restrictions are logical and I don't believe that they will be effective. I don't understand how places of worship are allowed to have up to 150 people who have not had their proof of vaccination required (supposedly masked) but the council is looking at a bylaw where a household cannot have more than 2 vaccinated families? Also, this by-law is going to be "complaint-driven". If the city wants to put the onus on its citizens with regards to COVID 19, why not impose the restrictions on those that are unvaccinated. Meaning, implement a bylaw that unvaccinated families are not allowed to meet with other families in private gatherings. People that have done their part, and received their vaccinations, should not have their freedoms continued to be restricted. Further, if people are choosing not to receive their vaccinations even at the continued urging of medical professionals and all levels of government.....I would suggest that these will be the first groups of people who will violate the proposed by-law. Therefore, in my opinion the by-law will not be effective and the people who will continue to be restricted (and actually follow the restrictions) will be those that are vaccinated and already doing their part. I urge the city to reconsider and to align with the provincial directives.
