Good Morning,

I would like to express my concern with the new restrictions you are working at implementing in the city of Saskatoon going forward.

I do not think this is the answer, and I do think this will cause far worse problems than be the solution. As we enter into winter, I really do think restrictions like this could severely affect people's mental health in a large way. Having a complaint driven system with neighbours "tattling" on their neighbours is only going to create further issues, create divide and stir up anger moving forward. Plenty of people have reasons of why they are unvaccinated, and as we have seen, being vaccinated does not stop you from getting covid. There are already limits for public places such as restaurants and bars to control who can and cannot enter. Trying to control who can come and go and what can happen inside a homeowners very own private household is extremely concerning to me. There is so much better ways to use this money and time. Much larger problems to deal with out there. The premier has decided that he does not support this bylaw.

Please re-think this.
