

Indigenous Procurement – Infographic 3 Pillar Strategy

The City of Saskatoon's Commitment to Developing Our Indigenous Procurement Strategy is Built on Three Pillars:

INDIGENOUS PROCUREMENT STRATEGY

DEMONSTRATING LEADERSHIP

- Organizational and executive support
- Indigenous engagement, promote positive relationships with Indigenous people, communities, and business
- Listen, learn, and adapt
- Support and drive internal and external stakeholder engagement
- Facilitate change, be a leader, and set the example with peer groups

PROCUREMENT PRACTICES & REPORTING

- Setting measurable and reliable metrics such as:
 - Percentage of Total Spend
 - Number of Contracts Awarded
 - Percentage of Indigenous Vendors
- Procurement dashboards and reporting
- Modern Procurement Practices and Strategies
 - Indigenous Participation and RFP Evaluations
 - Direct Awards, Limited or Closed Competitions

TRAINING, AWARENESS & EDUCATION

- Stakeholder training and awareness
- Provide education and training to assist small, medium, or diverse enterprises with navigating our procurement process and system
- Procurement 101
 - Doing Business with the City
 - Identifying potential opportunities
