Subject: Proposed Budget Increase

Message:

Hello I don't typically comment on issues within the City of Saskatoon unless it's relative to my profession. The continued increases in budget in certain areas are warranted however there are inefficiencies within the city of Saskatoon that need to be addressed. My example is for the past three years I have registered a complaint with the bylaw group about a neighbor continually blowing his leaves onto the city street. Which I believe is in contravention of a by law. The way the city operates is they come out and give you a warning. I have other examples of this principle. I would suggest that the cities policy becomes no more warnings. When a citizen contravenes a bylaw you immediately issue a ticket. There will be a learning curve associated with this. However once it's established that the city operates this way, the citizens will fall in line. The number of people issuing warnings within the city of Saskatoon is work that does not produce a desired effect. Issuing a ticket will produce the desired effect
