Comments:

Hi. Happy Saturday. We live on Konihowski Road; built our house in 1999. I am born and raised in Saskatoon, age 57. I am no expert, but having said that, am of the opinion that Saskatoon is encroaching on wildlife space. This photo is from a few years back; those are mule deer eating my junipers. There are always tons of deer behind our house (protected space no one beside or behind us) they have lots to eat. The reason most of us live in Saskatoon is that it's not too big - building more businesses, houses, roads on space that should belong to wildlife makes me think of Joni Mitchell's "Pave Paradise - put up a parking lot" tune. Amazing amount of people moving to Saskatoon from BC, ON etc., because they are tired of where they live..... Let Saskatoon be Saskatoon - lots of green space, places to walk, observe wildlife. I support and ask that City Counsel listen to the experts re: The Swale. Sincerely, Colleen Ewanchyna
