Comments:

I was not aware of the 17th st extension project until today. My biggest concern with the project is the increased traffic that will be filtered through 17th st and specifically to the intersection of 17th st and Spandina Cres W. Since the "traffic calming" measures have been implemented, this interaction has become confusing and unsafe. With the potential for increased vehicular traffic due the 17th st extension, rework of this particular intersection should be considered in the plan. As it stands, vehicles make their way east on 17th st to a sweeping corner on Spandina Cres. The corner is somewhat blind when travelling at 50km/hr making the intersection at Ave E S treacherous for pedestrians to cross. Our family along with many other pedestrians use this cross walk regularly and it is a very unnerving experience on a regular basis as it stands, with additional traffic it will be far worse. With the setup at this intersection prior to the "traffic calming" measures, drivers coming down 17th were forced to stop prior to making their way to Spadina Cres W and pedestrians could have a visual on traffic traveling both directions down Spadina Cres W.

To some my comments up, please consider and mitigate downstream effects of the 17th St extension prior to moving forward with it.
