Hello, the more I read about our city and city council makes me wonder if they have the best of the city in interest or themselves.

If it take you a year to decide on fire pits how can you decide on important issues.

When will you all step up and make the most difficult decisions that need to be made. The small business association suggests to cut staff. If you do not cut staff why not look at overtime? Every city worker I know is laughing at how easy it is to work overtime. There is no accountability with the city and you as the people in charge must make changes before we end up like regina.

I bet you the the reading this get overtime every week. Sorry to say....

Thank you reading this. I know it will go nowhere

Neil
