Comments:

As a responsible and long time Saskatoon cyclist, pedestrian AND driver, I am writing in support of the proposed 31st St bikeway to the 33rd St multiuse path. New and improved active transportation initiatives are sadly long overdue in our city, which has cost unnecessary loss of life and mounting frustration amongst too many members of our diverse community. Improvements and upgrades to our city's active transport infrastructure make for a happier, healthier and safer city for everyone, not just for cyclists. This is not an issue about appeasing any ONE vested group but about supporting diverse and accessible modes of transport.
