Comments:

I am delighted to see the city moving forward to address the housing and transportation challenges facing the city. The proposed changes have the potential to reinvigorate our major corridors - adding commercial, residential and office spaces to these routes. This will in turn make our city safer for all people in the street - children, elderly, cyclists alike. It is a plan which has the potential to create more interconnected communities by reducing the time it takes to commute and increasing the likelihood that people have their work place and home in closer proximity. These kinds of developments are good for families, good for businesses and good for the community. I fully endorse the proposed changes and encourage the Council to adopt them.
