Comments:
I shop weekly for my family and my mother Dorothy Knowles at the Farmer's Market.
I shop there for local produce, baking, dairy, and meats. Every time a farmer or independent baker is replaced by a small business, I question the reason. Our parks do not generate revenue but we keep them. This market is one of the truly used and loved features of our city. Recently in Halifax I observed that the harbour market in a much larger and more expensive building is only open Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays. Please save our market.
Some of the farmers and producers are dependent on that income.
