Hello,

I feel as though I have been totally blindsighted by this recent discussion of ending the SFM's lease and transforming the space into a public and/or farmers' market. I would encourage the City Council not to act on any recommendation until there has been adequate time for public consultation. I live next door to the market and rely on it every week. At a minimum this discussion should be postponed until more people can inform themselves about the issues. At this point, not knowing much about the proposed plans, I would urge you to renew the existing lease for at least a year. This would allow time to plan properly, and if a transition is in the works, farmers would have time to plan. I love the market as it is and any new configuration should make sure to have space for local farmers.
